MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Conversation with Secretary of State, 4 June 1980 (U)

25X6

1. The Secretary opened by saying he was sorry he had missed my Presidential briefing, so I swung right into that. I went through the abbreviated version. He listened attentively. When we got to the

I asked him about the PDB support. I also talked to his Executive Assistant about this. Unfortunately, I do not have any help with respect to his schedule and whether we can get any more regular time for presenting the PDB to him. He seems pleased with it in general and with the responsiveness to questions he has raised from time to time. I would, incidentally, like to see questions that he raises to get a feel for what is on his mind. (C/NF)

4. I discussed lidea of foreign policy reassessment. He thought it was a good idea. • He, in effect, encouraged me to come back with a specific plan for how to go about it. Ron Spiers was there and maybe he will help with that, too. The three of us had a considerable discussion with regard to the hazards of short-term foreign policy formulation. The Secretary has set out a program within State to develop some manageable foreign policy goals for the near term, but he

I also used that as an opportunity to stress the fact that we had to be patient and have some policies that didn't have a final solution that was visible. I urged that the support  8. Ron Spiers mentioned to the Secretary that Bill Miller of the SSCI had come to see him requesting regular distribution of the INR Daily Summary. Ron was generally in favor of acceding to this request if the Secretary and I concurred. I expressed some modest reservations about it, pointing out that we had had problems in keeping sensitive, near raw intelligence off the Hill until we could do something about it. The Secretary told Spiers not to grant this to Miller but to tell Miller that Bayh would have to call him directly.  [C/NF]  9.
